GreenParty 2014 from Nature-Park Steinwald

My personal interest in contesting has been gone years ago. For this reason I also didn't participate on the two latest Green-Parties since 2012. Anyway I planned at first for this year to do it, however some time-problems kept me off from a longer activity. So we decided to go only on a short trip of about two hours in the afternoon. Tested under this conditions also another antenna some fixes for the mast and also the new CW-keyer. So it was not a hunt for points, it was more for testing-purposes.

XYL Christa, my expedition-partner in about 70 portable-activations

It was extreme hot and we were on a parking-place near the small village of Wäldern in the centre of the Nature-Park Steinwald. 40 meters nearly was closed when we started at 1015 UTC. So we checked more at first on 20 meters. We had a good but short run on 14MHz CW and later also in SSB. Later we moved back to 40 meters with no interested stations in CW but then again a short run in SSB. The activity on the Greenday contest was not so big as expected.

I remembered two years ago were I took not part however activated a new german park DLFF-144 that day that it was extremely difficult to get a free frequency. This year it was no problem at all. Equipment worked well and we finally closed the station good two hours later with about 125 stations in the log.

Thanks to our QSL-manager Heinz DL7RAG all the QSL-cards are on the way to you. 73, 44, 11 and good health to all of you. Cu from the next one
